This paragraph has a background color of gray and a 20-pixel left margin, and it contains an ‖ inline element of border-left purple double 10px, which should have a 10-pixel purple double left border. The line-height of the parent element should not change on any line. Individual properties are being tested here.