This element is unstyled save for a background color of gray. However, it contains an inline element of margin-right -10px and background-color of red which should result in -10-pixel right margin only in the last line in which the inline box appears.